

Lately ISP like SPECTRUM and XFINITY blocking YAK-Chat. Please read our instructions: How to change DNS

Before you change your DNS because of this reason, call your ISP, explain them that you are using YAK-Chat for a long time without any problem. YAK-Chat is definitely not a place with exploit and do not contain any risk-contents. We are using Our Client or Servers longer than 20 years.

If it's still not help anyway, contact with us, write us Email: yakchat@yackity-yak.com

Here are some important instructions, if you have trouble login in yak-chat

1. Possible client problems

- We suggest you to download recent release of yak-chat (GirlPower-Pink)
- Please make sure, your OS-System (Windows10/11) not blocking your this download
- After download , Unzip it and start installing
- Do not install in default folder as suggested, when you don't have admin rights as below.

C:\programm(x86)\yak-NewClient-GirlPowerPink

- Install it in your Documents or Downloads folder
- After installation, goto TOOL=> COMMUNITY SERVERS and check, if the adress is correct

Here is the list of Community Server:

Community name    Server address

|       |                        |
|-------|------------------------|
| yak 1 | yakchat.h1x.com |
| yak 2 | yakchat.sexxy.biz      |
| yak 3 | yvpyak.sytes.com       |
| yak 4 | yyc.selfip.com         |
| yak 5 | yak1.ddns.net          |
| yak 6 | yyc.zapto.org          |

YAK 1 = yakchat.h1x.com is set as default

2. Why can't I get to the login page?

Make sure under TOOL=> COMMUNITY SERVERS the adress is correct

If you can't see the login page, cleanout your temp files.

If you still can't see the login page, please follow following steps:

a) close your yak-client and open it again

b) you will see at adress-bar this => <http://yakchat.h1x.com/chatlogin.php>

c) remove this and type this adress there => <http://209.46.126.10/chatlogin.php>

d) you will see Login again, put your name and passy and you will be connected to chat

After all this, you still can't see the login page, or get an error,
Check please again you are typing your chattername and password correct. Maybe your Shift-Key is locked

If you still can't see it after you have done this, there may be a possibility that you are banned.

It might not be you directly but you might fall under a range ban

So email us and let us know your user name and IP so we can check into it. => EMAIL (yakchat@yackity-yak.com)

Here is a list of error messages, you can add to this Email:

- Error 222 = Refused, banned
- Error 223 = Still banned, cannot rejoin for bad behavior
- Error 224 = Incorrect login
- Error 226 = Couldn't verify account
- Error 240 = Connection broken
